Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Rubber bounces up again in the news. Latest is: that if all motor users will be good, that is, travel at 35 mph, never for pleasure, workers in war industries will be permitted to buy recaps. This is the conclusion of the rubber committee headed by Bernard Baruch. Nearly every one, it would seem is doing something toward the war effort, but the workers in war industries will be the beneficiaries of the new rubber deal. But let no one complain and let every man jack of us do our best to get those recaps for the war workers, the first line of battle, the home front. Even if we have to thumb rides later on with the war workers, those directly engaged in making weapons, we shall be that much further ahead in the war.

The slogan which seems to have sprung up from a thousand villages and cross roads is:: Let's get on with the war!" It is a good slogan, born of the long tried patience of a patient people. We would much rather the president had not paused to find fault with congress, his subordinates in departments and bureaus, and with a small section of the American Press which annoys him. He would have done better when he had concluded his review of this trip before his press conference last week, if he had wound up that inspiring account of what he found in this broad land with: "Let's get on with the war." His yielding to a triple peeve did nothing but arouse resentments, particularly when the things complained of could, with the exception of the Press, be laid squarely on his own doorstep. But consistency is not a jewel to grace the crowns of royalty, or even presidents. Moreover we do not ask for consistency, but just for a modicum of horse sense and a little bit or Lincoln's humbleness in a big, tough job. That we do ask.

Whatever Washington does, or does not do, whether stuffed shirts and political stumble bums hold back the war effort with interbureau feuds, or corporation axe grinding, whether labor bloc or farm bloc eventually wins the upper hand in the struggle that rages through congress and the bureaucracy, one great fact we can keep in mind. Whenever the common people, people just like you and I, have a chance, we do acquit ourselves well. Who are these boys on Solomon Islands? Who are these splendid young men in Egypt? Who are the soldiers in Ireland and England? Why bless you, they are us, the common people projected on the field of battle. A cross section of all of us, rich, poor, lean and fat. They are our boys, and when the wind blows our way from Washington, just let us don our gas masks, and think of those young fellows, we, the common people produced. It will help yes, that will help us to endure the dilly-dally, shilly-shally, the peeves, the red tape, and the chaos of Washington.

And, after all, Washington does move, vastly ponderous, tremendously impressed with its own importance, it does move. Slowly it does face up to the fact of total war. Gradually it moves toward universal conscription, the right man in the right place to do his best to do his best to save this country from the Beast. And women, too, will have their part to play. Gradually Washington is weaned from the old to the new viewpoint. Fearful stuttering Washington, beset with political vaporings and tremors, yes, job-fearing Washington is moving. We now have a price and wage control act, and a man named to carry into effect. Painfully a tax bill is being born. After months of travail congress is about to produce a tax act, that comes somewhere meeting he war need. Not anything like what the people are willing and ready to bear, but at least it does go part way toward creating war chest and checking inflation, two things, vitally important to winning the war.

And while Washington hesitates and fuddles, our Flying Tigers, our Marines, our sailors, our soldiers, bombadiers, pilots, navigators, our fighting men around the world, make us proud. The time may come when our American mothers will say, "I did not raise my boy to be a politician. Thank God, he's a soldier."

Herb Cooper Career Was Eventful One

The following obituary of Herbert Cooper, former well-known Nevada City resident who died recently in Auburn, appeared in the Placer Herald:

HERBERT M. COOPER

In 1910, Herbert M. Cooper came to Auburn as District Manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Drum Division. Like most of his predecessors in this series of articles, Herb Cooper was a self made man. He was born in Nevada County on April 23rd, 1872, the son of Harvey and Josephine (Greely) Cooper, both natives of Maine. Mr. Cooper, Sr., came to California in 1857 by way of the Isthums of Panama. Lumbering was his business and he was first associated with the Mt. Oro Mills at Deer Creek and later with a lumber company at Nevada City. Then he and his brother, F. L. Cooper, purchased their own timber tract and operated a yard.

Herb Cooper attended public school at Nevada City, and when he was about twelve ears of age, he discovered a very worth while "hero" to worship and one who was greatly instrumental in directing his efforts to the line of work he eventually followed.

Lester Pelton, world famous inventor of the Pelton Water Wheel, for the generation of power by water completed and tested his famous invention in Nevada City, where he was given a part of the Geo. G. Allen Foundry for use in his experiments. Herb Cooper began his acquaintance with Pelton by raising and lowering a sluice gate on the hill when Pelton was conducting tests of the wheel which later received the highest test rating (both national and international) of any wheel of its kind.

When Herb Cooper was 14 years of age, one of his chores was a two hour stint churning butter. His friendship with Mr. Pelton had given him knowledge of the construction of the wheel and he decided that a little mechanical help might relieve him of an unpleasant task. He spoke to Mr. Allen first, who offered to let him use their patterns and workshop if he would promise three things: to get Mr. Pelton's permission to copy the wheel; to do the work himself, and not to sell the wheel when it was completed. He agreed, and began work. When his task was completed, he had a nine inch miniature Pelton water wheel, to which he attached a short piece of hose connected to the sink faucet and ran a pulley from the wheel to the churn, getting a 50 pound pressure, and from that time on the butter was churned in practically nothing flat.

For a while, young Herb worked in the lumber yard, then entered the employ of the Bay States Power Company, worked in a gas generating station at Grass Valley, operated the Camptonville Sawmill in Yuba County, and the Tiger Creek Sawmill in Amador County H.e worked on the construction of the Deer Creek Power House and was later associated with the water system in Eastern Placer County.

Mr. Cooper's early association with the lumber business and subsequent experiences in the various phases of electric light power and water plants of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company had well equipped him to assume the management of the Drum Division. Combined with his practical knowledge, Herbert Cooper proved to be a remarkable organizer of men. He had not only the respect and cooperation of the men he employed, but had the additional gift of making friends for his company in his dealings with the public. The Drum Division stood out as a model af effic-

FIRST LIEUTENANT WILLIAM BENNETT

Local Youth Is Promoted To 1st Lieutenant

Family members have received notification William G. Bennett has been promoted to a first lieutenant in the United States Army Air Corps.

Bennett, affectionately called "Wild Bill" by his flying mates in the Pacific War Zone, was commissioned a second lieutenant shortly after the outbreak of the war.

His promotion pleased his wife, the former Ruth Curnow, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Bennett, as well as his many relatives and friends here.

The promotion of the local young man followed his decoration for "gallantry in action" over battle areas throughout the Pacific War Zone. The award was a Silver Star, and was made by Major General George C. Kenney, commander of Allied Air forces in the Southwest Pacific.

Lieutenant Bennett was stationed at an airdrome in New Guinea on May 9th when a flight of Japanese Zeros made a strafing attack. Disregarding heavy machine gun fire, Bennett ran to his plane and succeeded in taking off. At an altitude of 1,000 feet he was attacked by four Zeros. He shot one down and when the others withdrew made a successful forced landing.

MRS. DOUGLASS MEETS OLD FRIENDS WHILE ON VISIT

Mrs. Belle Douglass returned Saturday from an extended visit in San Francisco and Hollywood. In San Francisco she spent some weeks with Miss Elizabeth Richards, former Nevada County Superintendent of Schools. In Hollywood Mrs. Dauglass was the guest of Mrs. Gus Edwards, formerly Lillian Boulanger of Nevada City. While in Hollywood she had the pleasure of meeting a number of old friends and former Nevada City residents, among them were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baruch, Norman Edwards and Miss Julia Hook.

Daily Transcript File Donated To Library In M. Baruh Memory

The file of Nevada Daily Transcript that has lain dormant for many years has at last been resurrected and donated to the Nevada City Library in memory of the late Marcus M. Baruh by his sister, Mrs. Isador Zellerbach and his brother Joseph Y. Baruh.

The file consists of 114 volumes dated from 1860 through 1905 and are a wonderful addition to the historic record of the community.

From Mrs. Belle Douglass who has long been considered an authority on such matters we learn that without these files there would be no available printed history from 1880 when the Thompson & West publication brought local facts to date to 1896 when the Morning Union began filing their issues.

Moving the heavy volumes to the library under supervision of T. W. Richards president of the library board was consummated by the combined effort of the city police force and R. R. Goyne of the Miners Foundry.

The trustees of the library fully appreciate the gift. Marcus M. Baruh in whose memory the donation is made was a prime favorite with those of his generation. He was loyal to his schoolmates and never lost an opportunity to visit members of the Class of '85 and recall the good old times of his school days.

The volumes will not be available for public use until they have been catalogued and some shelving built for their proper installation but the Nugget voices the thanks of the city for this fine historical record.

Mrs. Douglas came up from San Francisco at the request of the donors to arrange for the transfer of the volumes and with assistance of Miss Alice Murchie has been listing the volumes.

In speaking of the camp, Gen. Wogan said, "although not yet complete, it is one of the finest I have ever seen." He added in invitation, "I hope the citizens of Nevada County will be able to view this huge new city.

In the thirteenth division area, typical barracks and mess halls will be open for public inspection.

COLUMBIA HILL MAN MISSING

Bloodhounds from Folsom State Prison late yesterday joined a searching party looking for Peter Johnson, 65, who disappeared from his cabin ta the Coughlan place near Columbia Hill.

Johnson failed to appear for breakfast yesterday morning and searchers combed the hills all day for him. It was feared Johnson took an overdose of medicine and wandered away without realizing where he was going.

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen led the searching party yesterday.

SCRAP THIEVES

Charles Kistle of the Murchie Mine road stated Tuesday thieves had entered the Kistle mining property and stolen a car and other mine equipment. Other prospectors are complaining of losing equipment which is evidently being stolen and disposed of as scrap metal. It is stated robbing of mines in the Washington area is going on also. Prospectors are becoming alert to this thieving and those caught removing equipment will be dealt with by the law.

LIVE COMMITTEE OUT FOR SCRAP

"TO GET THE JAP"

Our men need tanks, ships and guns. The steel for these must be made from 50% scrap metal. But the Nation's steel mills do not have enough scrap on hand to last even 30 days more! Keep 'em running. Help build up a huge scrap stockpile—the bigger the better to properly equip our boys!

R. R. Goyne, chairman of the Nevada City sub-committee of Highway Patrol Scrap Drive announces that the committee has secured the use of the old P. G. & E. lot at the foot of Coyote Street, now owned by Wm. Ghidotti, for the storage of scrap. Working with Mr. Goyne is a live committee which is ready to devote time and energy to the gathering of scrap for the needs of our war industries. Personnel of the committee consists of: R. R. Goyne, chairman, Max Solaro, Herb Hallett, J. J. Jacson, James Allen, Walter Butz, Irving Long, Mell White and Harrison Randall.

The committee is now ready to receive all scrap from Nevada City and outlying districts. Proceeds from sales of scrap donations will be given to specified war project funds and it is hoped that responses will be liberal. However persons furnishing scrap for sale will be reimbursed by an authorized and licensed scrap dealer at established prices. Articles desired are: Cast iron, wrought iron, steel, brass, copper, automobiles, trucks, old mining equipment, etc.

In the immediate vicinity of Nevada City the city truck will collect. Other trucks will be secured to pick up scrap from outlying prcincts.

TELEPHONE CALLS FOR SCRAP COLLECTION MAY BE REGISTERED AT THE CITY HALL (Phone 27-W or at Miners Foundry (Phone 10). Any information about available scrap will be very welcome.

Caught in the Riffles

The Army will try to make an engineer officer out of Dan Ungaro, former school teacher. Ungaro is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. It's a long way from St. Petersburg, Fla., where Bob Paine was assigned. Both volunteered for officer's training and left here at the same time with the hope the army would keep them together.

R. G. Wagnet, state director of employment, announced miners displaced by the government ordered shutdown of gold mines in California are entitled to apply for unemployment insurance during the period they are idle.

However, it is probable few of the miners will be idle long enough to collect the unemployment insurance. As fast as they register at the federal employment office in Grass Valley they are informed jobs are awaiting them at various essential metal mines throughout the west.

In addition, agents for various mines and tunnel contractors have been in Nevada City and Grass Valley for the past several days seeking to employ large numbers of miners.

Among the men effected by the closing order, however, are many old timers who may not be able to get employment elsewhere. These men will be eligible for the unemployment insurance.

William Hobler, claims deputy for the department fo employment, arrived in Grass Valley today to confer with employers and miners on jobless insurance problems.

Chief of Police Max Solaro said about a dozen Nevada City Italian aliens turned in their short wave radios, firearms and other contraband shortly after the war started and now that Attorney General Biddle has reclassified them as non-enemy aliens they may be eligible to get their contraband back.

However, Chief Solaro is not returning any of the contraband until he receives definite instructions from Lt.-Gen. J. L. DeWitt. At the time the radios and firearms were turned in to the police department, receipts were issued and these receipts must be presented when and if instructions arrive here to return the articles.

The Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad was not the only historic western railroad purchased by Louis Dulien, head of Dulien Steel Products. Dulien's railroad purchases in recent days now totals four.

He announced the equipment of three of the railroads, including the NCNG, will be dismantled and shipped throughout the country and abroad to aid the war. Dismantling of the NCNG line began last Friday.

Nevada City residents are opening their hearts to the pleas of Camp Beale soldiers for various articles for their recreation halls. Mrs. U. S. N. Johnson donated a piano Sunday and yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stritsky gave a piano to the soldiers. Emmett Gallagher is chairman of a local committee in charge of handling and collecting articles donated for the camp. Radios and phonographs would be appreciated by the soldiers. Joe Day is using his office on Pine Street as a center for depositing phonograph records. A large number have been contributed but of course there is no limit to the number of records which can be utilized.

The nation wide scrap drive by school children really met with a fine response here. At the high school there are three big scrap heaps, all collected in Nevada City. And some one said there was a little scrap left here after the last drive.

HOME FROM "SOMEWHERE IN THE ATLANTIC"

Mr. Vanzi, a newspaperman who reported the war in Ethopia, the Spanish war and the many other great world adventures is home on furlough from "Somewhere in the Atlantic" and is enjoying the quiet of these mountain towns.

MISREPRESENTATION

(From San Francisco Chronicle)

In a radio broadcast last Thursday Governor Olson was guilty of flat misrepresentation of Earl Warren in connection with the prosecution of the murderers of Engineer George W. Alberts of the steamer Point Lobos.

The governor forgot that he had given Warren a clean bill of health in the Alberts case when on October 4, 1941, he told the state convention of the CIO he believed King, Ramsay and Conner were guilty of the murder. "The evidence" the governor said, "showed clearly that King, Ramsay and Conner conspired with the two who actually did the job—Wallace and Sacovits." But he thought, he said, that the men had been too severely punished. On February 11, 1941, at the conclusion of his pardon hearing, the governor said there was nothing to the "frame up" charge.

Nobody has ever said—least of all Earl Warren, who as District Attorney of Alameda county at the time, prosecuted the murderers—that King and Ramsey actually did the killing, or were present at the scene. They merely hired and sent the thugs to do the job that sent Alberts to his grave. Conner's part was to lead the thugs to Albert's cabin. This made King, Ramsay and Conner murderers of Alberts as much as the man who actually plunged the knife into his body.

After his past public and repeated acknowledgment of these facts, Governor Olson can not now fall back on the disingenous statement that King, Ramsay and Conner were not at the scene when Alberts was killed. Everybody knows that it has nothing to do with the case.

The parole of these murderers and actual enemies of the cause of labor, dictated solely by political expediency, was bad enough. Governor Olson need not now resort to misrepresentation of Warren, who, in this case, did his simple duty to the people and did it honestly with salutary effects that Olson has only tried to destroy.

NO TIME TO VOTE?

"We have a war on our hands. There is no time for politics," remarks many a well meaning but badly mistaken American to his neighbors, explaining his neglect to register for voting. Perhaps his listener agrees, and joins the ten million or more other Americans who, it has been predicted, may not "bother' to vote in this crucial election period.

If, however, the neighbor is a truly alert American, he replies that because of the war the ballot-box actually assumes added importance this year. He points out that a few minutes spent by each citizen in exercising wisely his voting privlege might result in a considerable shortening of the war's duration, and possibly the prevention of another world-wide conflict. For the elected candidates, local, state, and national, will have a part in the prosecution of the war effort, and some will deal with postwar problems.

What would not whole populations in enemy-occupied countries give to be able to cast a free vote, uncoerced by the Gestapo or Quisling officials? And men, women and children, throughout the United States are fighting, sacrificing, or otherwise striving to preserve among other democratic principles, the right to vote. Yet that right is being invalidated by a large proportion of the citizenry which is "too busy" or too negligent to go to the polls. The Nazi would delight in dispossessing them of this privilege. But these citnzens are dispossessing themselves.

The American congress in the years immediately ahead will be afforded the rarest opportunity and, at the same time, be faced with the gravest responsibility in its history. Participation in the war on a world wide scale has insured the United States a major voice in the peace-making.

That voice can help produce a greater harmony than the world has yet known or it can—by repeating a solo performance when the part calls for concord—result in discords that will drown the people's cheers of victory. Which it shall be may depend to a large extent on the vision, intelligence, and unselfed purpose of the men and women the American people now elect to serve in the senate and house of representatives. Can any American afford not to cast his prayerfully-considered vote— Christian Science Monitor.

OIL IN ENGLAND

In breaking the news that oil—rich, thick, highest A-grade type crude—is now flowing from an oil field discovered in the British Isles, Henry J. Taylor, noted war correspondent wrote:

"Why this miraculous gift to all free men should come as it has, and come at this hour in all the history of England, is not up to any man to explain."

It is a miraculous gift beyond price. England's absolute lack of oil has been a fundamental weakness in the strategy of basing a gigantic air force and mechanized land force on her soil. The Isles have ample refineries, but hitherto every single barrel of oil has been imported—and with the toll of the submarine warfare upon tankers and all shipping, the transportation problem has grown more serious as the program for fighting a mechanized war from England has developed.

It is a miraculous gift beyond comprehension. Through long years past, expert geologists in search of some trace of oil have probed every bit of English ground, from Land's End to the Orkneys—to no avail.

Now oil is flowing in England! Its quantity is a military secret. But the field is a real oil field—not a mere pocket, according to American oil men, and already American oil workers have been sent to England to speed full development of the field.

It is one of the great stories of the war. It is great news to read in Moscow, Washington and Chungking. It is somber news of fate working against them to leaders in Berlin, Rome and Tokyo.

DON'T NEGLECT SCRAP RUBBER

The urgency and seriousness of our rubber shortage forcefully was brought home to us by Bernard Baruch in the president's rubber inquiry committee report. "We find the existing (rubber) situation so dangerous," he said, "that unless corrective measures are taken immediately this country will face both a military and civilian collapse. The naked facts present a warning that cannot be ignored."

Scrap rubber from our homes, farms and industrial plants is part of the answer to the problem. It must be remembered that even in normal times the rubber industry has used a percentage of scrap rubber in the manufacture of rubber articles. Scrap rubber went into the average automobile tire even before the war, when we still had access to inexhaustible supplies of natural rubber in Mayala and the Netherlands East Indies. We are using proportionately more scrap rubber now to meet the huge demands of our armed forces, thus saving our priceless and irreplacable stock of crude rubber. Until victory or until our synthetic rubber industry is in full operation, our war needs can absorb all the reclaimed rubber we can supply.

So don't neglect that old pair of rubber galoshes, that swimming cap, or that piece of garden hose when you are making a search of your home for the scrap which will help win the war. Old rubber is urgently needed and the most beautiful monument we can build to American victory are stockpiles of rubber at our local collection depots.

Wings of Victory

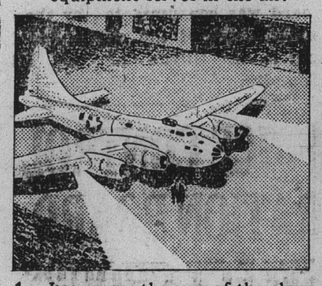
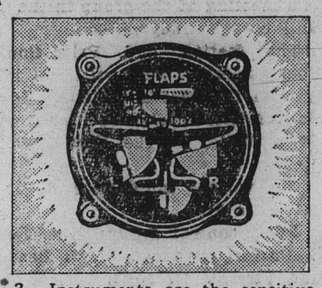
Electricity helps make America's war planes some of the world's most deadly weapons. Here are a few of the ways in which G-E equipment serves in the air.

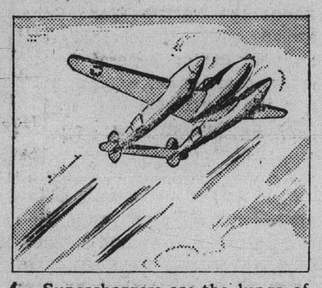


1. Lamps are the eyes of the plane at night, ranging in size from cockpit lamps no larger than a pea to landing lamps of more than half-a-million candlepower.

2. Radio combines the voice and the ears of the plane, allowing communication between the pilot and his squadron, and the ground and sea forces.



3. Instruments are the sensitive brain that relays messages to the pilot from all parts of the ship and helps him to control the plane in its flight.



4. Superchargers are the lungs of the plane, pumping extra oxygen to the carburetors, giving our planes the altitude so necessary to modern warfare.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

iency and organization in the P. G. and E. Co. system. When Mr. Cooper retired a few years ago, his successor James R. Johnson saw fit to carry on in the same manner which typified Herb Cooper's long and pleasant association with the company.

Although retired from active duty Mr. Cooper takes a keen interest in all civic affairs and the advancement of the community in which he lives. He was chairman of the Placer County Probation Committee, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Auburn Union Grammar School, and, has been active in the Masonic Hall Association, the Rotary Club and the Tahoe Club, besides being an ardent supporter of the Boy Scouts. Mr. Cooped had been especiall interested in the Auburn Grammar School, and it is through his efforts that the grounds have been transformed into their present beauty. The outdoor amphitheatre of the school bears his name, and is a living testimony of the respect and esteem in which his memory is held.

He was a member of the Sons of American Revolution, the Masonic Lodge in all its ramifications, and the Grass Valley Lodge of Elks.

Mr. Cooper was married to Miss Nettie Hacklin of Nevada City. Mrs. Cooper has passed on, and Mr. Cooper was joined at home by his daughter, Mrs. Thelma S. Hughes. His other daughter, Marcella (Mrs. Philip Nolan), resides in San Francisco.

Auburn has an invisible roll of honor which bears the names of her citizens who have contributed much to her progress and development. And it is only fitting that the name of Herbert Cooper should be pointed out as having a place of honor on this list.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

HAPPENED to me only yesterday. I step on the starter of my car. Engine turns over O. K. but she won't start.

So I look under the hood just as if I know what's the matter. Tap a few things with a wrench. While I'm standin' there, wondering what to do next, a young soldier stops alongside.

"Need some help?" he asks.

"Got her almost fixed," I says. "But still she won't start."

"Looks like your carburetor's flooded," he says. "Got a screw driver handy?"

That young soldier knew what he was doin' all right. Went to work just like a professional.

"She'll be O.K. now," he says, straightenin' up and smilin'.

Boy's face looked sort of familiar. And darned if that soldier wasn't young Charlie Jenkins from Elm Street. Used to be a round-shouldered kid—one of those jitter bugs you hear about. Say! You wouldn't know him after six months in the Army. Fifteen pounds heavier—straight and tan and real sure of himself. The Army's done a lot for Charlie. Made a man out of him—and I guess that goes for lots of other young fellows, too.

The other day I read how some folks worry about the soldiers havin' a glass of beer now and then. Well, after seein' Charlie, I don't think there's much cause for people to fret.

Just like Charlie says—"If you can trust us with guns and ships and tanks, I guess you can trust us with a glass of beer once in a while, if we happen to want one."

And I know the beer industry is co-operating with the Army and the law-enforcement officers to see that beer is sold in good, clean, decent places.

From where I sit, this country's never seen a finer, cleaner, better-behaved lot of men than the ones in uniform today . . . I'm not worryin' about 'em!

SACRAMENTAN SHOT IN FOOT BY DEER HUNTING COMPANION

Carl Cederburg of Sacramento was the only victim of shooting a accident this year in Nevada County during the deer hunting season.

Cederburg was shot in the foot by a hunting companion and is in the Community Hospital in Grass Valley.

Cederburg and other members of a hunting party were on one side of a ravine while other hunters in the party were on the other side. A deer broke out of the brush and several shots were fired by the hunters on the opposite side of the ravine from Cederburg. One shot killed the deer. Another shot struck Cederburg in a foot.

TRAINING COURSE FOR OFFICERS AT PLACER JR. COL.

Seven more Placer Junior College students were sworn into reserves of the armed forces last week to continue officer training in college. Six chose the Navy and one the Marine Corps.

Those listed are: Navy:

Paul W. Chesbro, Nevada City; George Coats, Auburn; Louis Mitchell, Grass Valley; Howard Thruston, Auburn; Don Winton, Auburn; William White, Auburn.

Marine Corps: Keith Lukens, Auburn.

Fourteen additional students are seeking admission to the officer training program in various branches of the service, and may complete their enlistments during the present week according to Earl Crabbe, representative of the armed forces on the campus.

A new branch of the service offered a plan to Placer Junior College this week, which has become operative.

Under this plan, a student now in college, may enlist in Naval Aviation under the V-5 plan, without taking the V-1 course, by taking a mental and physical test. When accepted by the Navy, the student is returned to college to finish the current school year, and is then called as a Naval Aviation Cadet.

V-1 students would normally complete two years of college before entering the V-5 status. However, they may enter V-5 in March of any year by passing mental tests given by the Navy.

Saturday officers representing the Army, Navy and Marine Corps spent five hours on the campus interviewing prospective officer candidates, now enrolled in college.

Friends in Nevada City have received a message from Robert Howden, formerly with the Tahoe National Forest service. He has just been transferred to Camp Haan and continues to advance.

VETERANS URGE ACTIVE WAR LEADERSHIP

Former Servicemen Supporting World War Buddy In His Race For Governorship

Earl Warren Served With the 91st Division; His Defense Record Is Praised

Veterans of World War I—thousands of them—under the statewide leadership of Frank N. Belgrano, Jr., former national commander of the American Legion today are campaigning for their 91st Division buddy, Attorney General Earl Warren, in his fight to win the Governorship of California.

In their campaign for new leadership in state administration, they point to Warren's activities in connection with Civilian Defense, and they openly charge Governor Culbert L. Olson with a record of appalling neglect of war preparedness and bungling of the state's defense program in "his game of playing politics as usual' for personal gain."

Veterans are still incensed at Olson's unwarranted attempt to belittle their efforts against subversives and un-Americanism. They do not forget his veto of bills requiring the school children to pledge allegiance to the flag; his veto of a bill permitting high school boards to purchase cadet uniforms: or that, in the State Senate he cast the only vote. on May 25, 1937, against a California National Guard appropriation. His record of defense neglect is long.

Warren, on the other hand, as early as January, 1941—long before Pearl Harbor—anaylzed the war situation, mustered peace officers of the state, and sponsored practical defense measures. He is a forceful and courageous leader, veterans declare.

Families of men now in the service are numbered among Warren's staunchest supporters, because he also assures intelligent after-the-war leadership.

SENATOR MAYO HERE IN INTEREST OF EARL WARREN

Senator Jesse M. Mayo, former assemblyman for Nevada County was here Tuesday in the interest of the candidacy of Earl Warren for governor. Senator Mayo now represents Calaveras, Tuolumne and Mariposa counties in the state senate. He is a newspaper publisher in Angels Camp.

Senator Mayo stated that "Earl Warren is the only candidate for governor in many years who has given some thought to the development of the mountain counties and the full utilization of their natural resources."

"Warren hopes," said Mayo, "to formulate plans shortly after January 1, looking toward using the great natural resources of the mountain counties of California not only for producing strategic minerals to aid our war effort, but to develop a large source of employment in California in the mountain counties for post-war reconstruction."
